

UC SANTA BARBARA

THE Current

May 14, 1999

Lillian Kurosaka

CONFERENCE FOR PROFESSIONAL WOMEN WILL BE MAY 24

UCSB Professional Women's Association (PWA) will highlight women and careers, families, health, and community involvement in its third annual conference titled "Celebrating Women: Our Accomplishments & Our Challenges" on Monday, May 24, at the campus' Corwin Pavilion.

Open to the public, the event will begin with a continental breakfast at 7:30 a.m. and end at 4 p.m. Keynote speaker is Jan Alpert, UCSB alumnus and president of LandAmerica Financial Group, Inc. Workshops will focus on a variety of professional and personal development topics designed to enhance work skills.

Fee for the conference is $75; members, $50. For more information, call Gail Johnson, 893-2846 or Gina Funderburgh, 893-8905. Online registration and conference details are available through PWA's website <http://www.pwa.ucsb.edu>.

Founded in January 1993, UCSB's PWA has over 300 members, which include faculty, staff, students, alumni, and affiliate group members of both sexes. PWA is active in extensive community outreach projects including support for homeless school children and book scholarships for UCSB re-entry students.

About UC Santa Barbara

The University of California, Santa Barbara is a leading research institution that also provides a comprehensive liberal arts learning experience. Our academic community of faculty, students, and staff is characterized by a culture of interdisciplinary collaboration that is responsive to the needs of our multicultural and global society. All of this takes place within a living and learning environment like no other, as we draw inspiration from the beauty and resources of our extraordinary location at the edge of the Pacific Ocean.