September 15, 2000
Edith Inta

UCSB Expert Examines Santa Barbara's Economy

The economy is good, unemployment is down and inflation unexpectedly posted a decrease in August. What could be better?

Bill Watkins, director of the UCSB Economic Forecast Project, will offer another view of these good economic times in his talk, "Santa Barbara's Economic Outlook: Generally Good, but..." The event is scheduled from 5:15 p.m. to 6:45 p.m. Oct. 10 at Chase Palm Park Recreation Center, 236 E. Cabrillo Blvd. It is part of the UCSB Economics Forum, an ongoing program for people interested in in-depth discussions on the fascinating and complex world of economics. Prior to joining UCSB in January, Watkins was an economist at the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System in Washington, D.C. He worked and conducted research in the Banking Analysis Section of the Monetary Affairs Division.

Watkins holds a Ph.D. in economics from UCSB. He has approximately 19 years of lending experience, mostly in Southern California banks.

The forum is sponsored by the UCSB Affiliates, Friends Linking Campus and Community, and the Office of Community Relations in association with the Department of Economics.

Tickets are $5 for affiliates and Chancellor's Council members and $8 for non-members. Reservations are required. Call the community relations office at 893-4388 for more information.
About UC Santa Barbara

The University of California, Santa Barbara is a leading research institution that also provides a comprehensive liberal arts learning experience. Our academic community of faculty, students, and staff is characterized by a culture of interdisciplinary collaboration that is responsive to the needs of our multicultural and global society. All of this takes place within a living and learning environment like no other, as we draw inspiration from the beauty and resources of our extraordinary location at the edge of the Pacific Ocean.