UC SANTA BARBARA
THE Current

April 6, 2015
Andrea Estrada

UCSB Amplified

Music takes center stage with UCSB Amplified, a new performance series featuring UC Santa Barbara students, faculty, staff and even alumni. Every week, a new live-recorded mini-concert will showcase UCSB's exceptional talent and diverse music scene.

The series begins today with two performances. The first is by the folk rock duo Erisy Watt and Jeremy Ferra, fourth-year undergraduates in degrees in environmental studies and physics, respectively. The second is by the classical Young Artists Piano Quartet, an ensemble featuring pianist Leslie Cain, violinist Youjin Jung, violist Jordan Warmath and cellist Larissa Fedoryka, graduate students in the Department of Music.

Upcoming concerts will include performances by flutist Azeem Ward, the Afro-Brazilian Ensemble, the classic rock group Foreclosure and the UCSB Percussion Ensemble.

Tune in to http://ucsbamplified.tumblr.com and experience what UCSB's thriving music community has to offer.

For access to the "UCSB Amplified: Erisy and Jeremy" video, featuring a live performance by UC Santa Barbara students Erisy Watt and Jeremy Ferra, please contact us.

About UC Santa Barbara

The University of California, Santa Barbara is a leading research institution that also provides a comprehensive liberal arts learning experience. Our academic community of faculty, students, and staff is characterized by a culture of interdisciplinary collaboration that is responsive to the needs of our multicultural and global society. All of this takes place within a living and learning environment like no other, as we draw inspiration from the beauty and resources of our extraordinary location at the edge of the Pacific Ocean.