

UC SANTA BARBARA

THE Current

January 19, 2016

Sonia Fernandez

A Time to Reflect

Neither the rain nor the afternoon chill discouraged a small band of marchers from honoring Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. on Tuesday, Jan. 19. The group, composed of faculty and staff members and students conducted their Silent March from UCSB's Cheadle Hall through campus in honor of the civil rights leader's life and work. According to Aaron Jones, president of the Graduate Students Association and one of the leaders of the march, the walk is a time for participants to "give silent reflection on Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s legacy."

About UC Santa Barbara

The University of California, Santa Barbara is a leading research institution that also provides a comprehensive liberal arts learning experience. Our academic community of faculty, students, and staff is characterized by a culture of interdisciplinary collaboration that is responsive to the needs of our multicultural and global society. All of this takes place within a living and learning environment like no other, as we draw inspiration from the beauty and resources of our extraordinary location at the edge of the Pacific Ocean.