UC SANTA BARBARA

THE Current

February 25, 2016
Shelly Leachman

UCSB to Host CUCSA Spring Meeting

- The Council of UC Staff Assemblies (CUCSA), a systemwide group meant to maintain and enhance communication within the UC on matters of interest to staff employees, will hold its spring meeting at UC Santa Barbara, March 2-4.

  The council meets quarterly, at a different campus each time, to share organizational best practices, communicate and collaborate on topics of particular relevance to UC staff. Delegates from each location gather to discuss staff concerns, network, listening to speakers and planning.

  The topics being examined in the 2015-2016 academic year include health and wellness; staff veterans; effective change management; performance management; and internal operations.

  At UCSB the delegates will be hearing presentations from UCSB senior administrators such as Chancellor Henry T. Yang and Executive Vice Chancellor David Marshall, as well as guests from the Office of the President.

About UC Santa Barbara

The University of California, Santa Barbara is a leading research institution that also provides a comprehensive liberal arts learning experience. Our academic community of faculty, students, and staff is characterized by a culture of interdisciplinary collaboration that is responsive to the needs of our multicultural and global society. All of this takes place within a living and learning environment like no other, as we draw inspiration from the beauty and resources of our extraordinary location at the edge of the Pacific Ocean.